Guidelines

- Projects must be about the persecution of Jews by the Nazis and/or their collaborators, or its consequences.

- The Claims Conference does not accept applications from individuals, only from registered non-profit organizations and research institutions (exceptions for film, new media and social media applications).

- The grantee is responsible for securing the remaining sources of matching funding.

- Expenses are paid out on a reimbursement basis. Expenses are reimbursed provided: 1) they were expended during the grant period; 2) they were in the pre-approved budget; 3) they are accompanied by proof of expenditure. This includes proof of matching funds.

- If a grant request has been previously rejected, one may not resubmit for the same project.
